

Parents of Children in or Entering Preschool & Grades K-12

Why Your Child Needs Shots

Children must meet immunization requirements as stated in Idaho law to attend school. To meet legal requirements, a record with evidence that children are up-to-date on their immunizations (shots) or a valid immunization exemption must be provided and kept on file at the school. When children are in group settings, there is the potential for the spread of infectious diseases. Diseases like chickenpox, measles, and whooping cough spread quickly, so children need to be protected before they enter preschool and grades K-12.

What You Need at Registration

You will need to present your child’s immunization record and/or a valid immunization exemption to the school at the time of registration to enroll your child. The immunization record must show the date (month, day, and year) your child was given each shot. If you do not have an immunization record or your child has not received all required shots, call your doctor or local health department for an appointment.

If your child’s record is missing any immunizations, contact your doctor to obtain the full immunization record or any doses needed. If your child recently received immunizations and needs an immunization later in the year to meet requirements, they may attend school, provided you complete the Conditional Admission form and get the remaining doses when they are due. If you would like to exempt your child from immunization requirements for religious, or other reasons, you may complete a form provided by the school or provide a signed written statement that includes the name of the child, birthdate, and type of exemption being claimed (religious or other). For a medical exemption, you must provide a certification signed by a licensed physician stating the medical reason the child cannot be immunized.
